

Usim to host 10th video fest

NILAI: Universiti Sains Islam Malaysia (Usim) will host the 'Festival Filem dan Video Pelajar Malaysia ke-10 (FFVPM10) 2013' on Nov 15 and 16.

Vice-chancellor Prof Dr Asma Ismail said that besides providing a platform and recognising the work of tertiary students in the country involved in the field of communications, broadcasting, film and multimedia, FFVPM-10 in collaboration with the National Film Development Corporation (Finas) also aims to discover new talent in the field of creative industries among local university students.

"Hence, we would like to invite all the Institutions of Higher Learning and Private Higher Education Institutions in the country to participate in the festival and take part in competitions under various categories like short films, documentation films, experimental films and videos, video clips, commercials, animated films and public service messages.
